

WELCOME TO TAGNOLOGY

Expertise in identification, localisation and digitalisation

In the future market of the steadily growing Industry 4.0 the TAGnology Group is one of the leading European companies in the RFID, NFC and Auto-ID sector. Since 2003, we have been developing individual and fully automatic technologies for contactless communication and identification at our three locations Austria, Croatia and Germany.

The field of application of our complete solutions is everywhere where contactless identification, localisation and digitalisation as well as wireless charging 2.0 are used. Recognising how best to use a technology to simplify processes more efficiently is our great strength. Years of experience, a broad spectrum of customers from a wide range of sectors and an international network of renowned partners give us the necessary basis for this.

In our in-house innovation and function laboratory, which is unique in Europe, production and logistics processes are simulated under practical conditions and technical feasibility tests are carried out. Gain an advantage over your competitors and contact us for a no-obligation consultation:
